Hi Vicky, tell us all about Aviator and why it's such a fabulous venue

Aviator is a contemporary hotel located on the Hampshire and Surrey border in Farnborough. It boasts 169 spacious rooms and suites, two restaurants and a bar, a large terrace and lawn, and 6 diverse event spaces hosting up to 125 delegates.

With subtle nods to the history of aviation running throughout, Aviator is a truly unique space. The venue lends itself perfectly to residential meetings, which include dinner and accommodation.

Tell us a bit about your role and how your team look after your clients so well

I've been part of the team for eight years, with a strong background in hotel M&E sales.

Each booking at Aviator is supported by a dedicated coordinator who manages every stage of the booking, making sure each event is tailored from start to finish. We collaborate openly with our operations team to offer practical advice and smooth delivery, and it's really rewarding to see so many repeat clients and positive feedback.

Tell us about why you are such a good option for event planners & clients to consider?

We're a great option for event planners because we combine outstanding facilities with a consistently high level of service across all departments, from operations to the kitchen. Our experience means we give honest recommendations and manage expectations, ensuring events are practical and well delivered.

Guests enjoy a seamless journey from booking through to check-out, plus a truly unique view of Farnborough Airport's runway. We tailor every event rather than offering cookie-cutter solutions, supported by an on-the-day team that regularly goes above and beyond. Our convenient location near London and key business parks makes us even more appealing.

What's new? Anything exciting to tell us about?

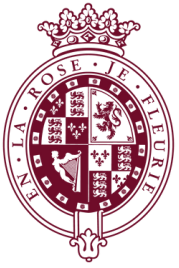

Aviator is renowned for its extravagant and luxurious Christmas parties, which often sell out well before December. Due to popular demand, we've added an extra party date in late November, giving even more guests the chance to celebrate. This also suits organisations that find December especially busy.

Guests can expect an unforgettable evening of glamour, starting with champagne on arrival, a decadent three-course festive dinner by our Executive Chef, and continuing with live entertainment, DJs, a buzzing dance floor, a photo booth and casino tables. Shared party nights are perfect for colleagues, friends and families alike, and we are already taking bookings directly.

Hi Caroline, tell us all about Goodwood and why it's such a fabulous venue

Set in 11,000 acres of beautiful West Sussex countryside, an hour from London and just a short drive from the sea, Goodwood is a quintessential sporting estate.

From the Georgian splendour of Goodwood House, the roaring speed of the Motor Circuit, the elegance of The Kennels Clubhouse and the luxury and comfort found in our hotel, cottages and Hound Lodge, your event at Goodwood will be crafted with care and meticulous attention to detail.

Tell us a bit about your role and how your team look after your clients so well

No two days at Goodwood are ever the same. Our role is to build strong partnerships with our clients, taking the time to understand their goals and bringing events to life in a truly bespoke way.

From the first enquiry to the final farewell, we work closely with our planners and operational teams to manage every detail, offering guidance, reassurance and creative ideas, so our clients feel fully supported throughout their entire event journey.

Tell us about why you are such a good option for event planners & clients to consider?

Quite simply, because an event at Goodwood is never just an event; it's a meeting like no other. Clients return to Goodwood because we offer far more than a venue; we create exceptional experiences.

Set within 11,000 acres of stunning countryside just 90 minutes from London, our spaces combine character, flexibility and modern facilities. From inspiring meeting rooms to iconic locations across the Estate, every event is completely bespoke.

Our world-class food, sourced from our organic farm and our dedicated events team ensure every detail is thoughtfully delivered. With unforgettable “only at Goodwood” experiences and a reputation for hosting international events, planners know they’re in safe, experienced hands from start to finish.

What's new? Anything exciting to tell us about?

Goodwood Racecourse opens its doors as an extraordinary events destination. Renowned as one of the most beautiful racecourses in the world, it offers a rare opportunity to host meetings, conferences, large-scale parties and spectacular celebrations within a truly iconic setting.

Hi Elena, tell us all about the QEII Centre and why it's such a fabulous venue

The QEII Centre is one of London's best located venues, situated right in the heart of Westminster, combining modern and facilities and cutting-edge technology with history and heritage on our doorstep.

Our 32 flexible spaces can host all types of events, including congresses, conferences, exhibitions, fashion shows, product launches, awards, and gala dinners and accommodates up to 2,500 delegates.

Tell us a bit about your role.

I've been at the QEII Centre for almost two years, leading our Sales & Marketing team and helping shape the direction of the venue. I have been involved in so many exciting projects from refreshing the brand to developing new services such as our Michelin-inspired dinner menu and accommodation booking platform.

Day to day, I support the team and provide guidance to ensure clients have a great experience from first enquiry to the last guest leaving.

Why is your venue such a good option for event planners to consider?

What I love most about the QEII Centre is the location. Right in the heart of London, surrounded by iconic landmarks like the Houses of Parliament and Westminster Abbey, our guests enjoy stunning views and the buzz of the city on their doorstep.

Getting here couldn't be easier, with excellent Tube, bus, rail and air connections making travel simple for delegates from near and far. But what really sets us apart is our team.

Many of them team been here 20+ years and know the venue inside out. This expertise is invaluable to our clients and is a significant factor in our retention rate of over 60%

What's new? Anything exciting to tell us about?

One of the most exciting things we've recently introduced is QEII Stays, an accommodation booking service created to make event planning simpler and the delegate experience better. It takes the hassle away from our clients, allowing them to save time and money whilst choosing from 26,000 rooms nearby meaning delegates can stay minutes from the venue, reduce travel stress, and make the most of London.

We are also celebrating 40 years of hosting world-class events the QEII this year, so stay tuned to our social channels for more updates as we celebrate reaching this in milestone in style.
